

SALT Sports Academy

Todd Smith took on the job and over a very short period of time developed an interactive, creative and fun program specifically designed for football coaches in Cambodia. The quality of the material is best seen in all the examples relating to Cambodian culture and language, showing that Todd has mastered the language and understands the way young Khmers think.

The curriculum which has been developed is relevant, short and very useful. The ideas and training on how to use it has helped our teachers of the curriculum feel comfortable to go into the new season and educate the coaches.

As a kick off into the season Todd Smith also came up to Battambang and run a two day workshop. His humorous way of interacting with the participants as well as the many good examples and games made everybody excited for the lessons to come.

Despite a tight budget, I think hiring the expertise of Mr. Smith will make a big difference in our project and I am looking forward to keep working with him on further projects.
